Public Information Policy
The Landscape Architecture Accreditation Board (LAAB) requires accredited program to provide reliable information to the public. Program must report on accreditation status and its performance. This information is meant to help potential students make information application decisions.

Accreditation
The Temple University Bachelors of Landscape Architecture (BSLA) and Masters of Landscape Architecture (MLArch) are nationally accredited degree programs by the LAAB. The BSLA is a 4 year program and has been continually accredited since 1991. The next accreditation is scheduled for 2022.
The MLArch program offers both pre-professional 3 year and post-professional 2 year options. The program started in 2010 and the next accreditation is scheduled for 2024. For more information on LAAB, see: https://www.asla.org/schools.aspx
